

Fish Weather Radar

The purpose of this particular weather site is to give weather readings of the nearby areas/towns for ideal fishing conditions. Whether it be for ice fishing, fly fishing or bait fishing, the weather site can help local users make decisions on where they will fish that day.

Different people this site will be targeting are the outdoorsmen such as regular hunters or fishers, people who are new to fishing such as myself who aren't very well versed in fishing, but want to try something new and people who are unfamiliar with the area, such as students or tourists.

Color scheme will be greys, blues and maybe some faded greens. I was thinking some form of attractive lake colors.

Sidenote: For the life of me I couldnt get the image to show right side up, so.. Yeah sorry about that.
